Today in the Ausseerland

Goldsmiths "Goldschmiede Steiner"

The Steiner goldsmiths in Bad Aussee have been making high-quality traditional costume and dirndl jewelry from real silver since 1968. Traditional and modern pieces are created in the in-house workshop - including the award-winning "Tree of Life" jewelry with garnet stones. In addition to classic accessories, the company also offers customized pieces.

Lake Altaussee

The water is crystal clear and transparent and has a slightly dark blue color. This is why Lake Altaussee is also known as the "dark blue inkwell". The view of the Dachstein, but also the different perspectives of the Loser, Trisselwand, Tressenstein and Sandling will inspire you. An approximately seven-kilometre gravel panoramic trail leads around the lake - if you want to take a shortcut or get to the Seewiese in comfort, you can use the solar-powered boat.

Waterfall Tauplitz

The Tauplitz waterfall is an impressive natural gem near the village of Tauplitz in the Styrian Salzkammergut. Around 2.5 kilometers north-east of the town center, the Sagtumpelbach stream plunges over a height of 30 meters into the Grimmbach stream after flowing for around 650 meters. For hiking enthusiasts, there is an easy circular hike that starts right in the center of Tauplitz and leads mainly through the forest.
